NEW LOOK FOR JETS

You may have noticed that we’ve had a bit of a makeover here at JETS. We have a brand new website (www.jets-uk.org) which we hope you will find easier to use and access important information about training, careers support and the services we offer both Jockeys and Employers.

It is fully responsive so very easy to use on mobiles and tablets and will be regularly updated with blogs, videos and case studies to help inspire jockeys about their future careers. We also have a new logo which we hope will give JETS a stronger identity and can easily adapt across a range of media.

MASTER SADDLER SEEKING FORMER JOCKEY FOR APPRENTICESHIP

We are pleased to tell you about an exciting opportunity that has arisen with Shropshire-based Master Saddler, Andy Wheals - The Saddlemaker who is offering an apprenticeship and would like to employ a former jockey, under the age of 23.

To start in September, the Apprenticeship would last three years, working alongside the Master Saddler on a paid basis, and would enable the successful applicant to become a Qualified Saddler and Qualified Saddle Fitter.

If you are interested, please contact Lisa at JETS in the first instance.
Since launching our Friends of JETS scheme earlier this year, we’re delighted to have welcomed a number of organisations as Friends including most recently Godolphin and Darley.

The addition of these two prestigious international organisations represents the first breeding and training operations to join the scheme which now has businesses across a range of sectors who are willing to offer careers support to JETS candidates. We hope this diverse network of businesses will help inspire jockeys when it comes to deciding on what their next career will be. If you’re interested in attending a taster day or speaking with someone from any of these businesses about the opportunities they can offer, then please contact Lisa.

If you think your business could also be appropriate to join the scheme, then please do get in touch and we can send you an Information Pack.

WELCOME TO GODOLPHIN & DARLEY

Friends of JETS

CONGRATULATIONS TO:

Gemma Tutty who has received a scholarship to study for a degree in Psychology & Counselling at Teeside University.

Lizzy Butterworth who has joined Hambleton Racing as a Racing Manager.

Paul Benson who has just finished a four year BSc degree in Business Computing.

Carrie Needham for securing a role as Accounts Assistant at Smith & Williamson.

WOULD YOU LIKE SOME MEDIA TRAINING?

Racing UK, one of our Friends of JETS, has kindly agreed to offer two Media Training Sessions for both former and current jockeys in order to share their expertise and help jockeys understand the basic dos and don’ts of media interviews and how to convey the right image and messaging.

The trainees will also be given a chance to experience being a presenter (with earpiece) and review some races with the aid of the HEGO touchscreen. The proposed trainers are Oli Bell, Lydia Hislop, Richard Hoiles, Stewart Machin and Nick Luck – all experienced presenters who know what television requires from an interviewee.

The morning sessions are three hours long, free of charge and will take place on September 14 and 28. If you’re interested please contact Lisa to book your place.

DON’T FORGET!!

Many training courses (evening, part-time & flexible) start in September so you need to register for these NOW! Whether it’s a trade course such as plumbing or further education you’re interested in, Lisa is here to advise and find the right course for you.

JETS training grants are available to help qualifying jockeys and former jockeys to finance these courses.
